SECRETARY OF NAVY DANIELS SAYS "FAKE"

Claims He Did Not Say He Favored Sailors and Officers
Messing Together.

Senator Kern the Democratic leader is laying for Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire. This is an aftermath of their colloquy some days ago when Senator Gallinger upbraided him for not believing reports that Secretary of the Navy Daniels favored requiring officers and enlisted men of the navy to mess together.

Secretary Daniels has just returned to Washington. After a conference with him, Senator Kern said he is authorized to state that Secretary Daniels never favored any such thing and that the big to-do in the newspaper was all a "fake." Senator Gallinger asserted it was true and lectured Senator Kern for having "abominations." Now, Senator Kern proposes to call his lecture down and to point a moral.

LICENSE BOARD.

Organize at Concord and Get to Work at Once.

Edmund Sullivan, Esq., of Berlin, Dr. Augustus A. E. Brien of Manchester, and William J. Britton of Wolfboro, appointed as members of the license commission by the governor on Monday, were commissioned on Thursday and sworn to the faithful discharge of their duties. Mr. Sullivan is chairman of the board and Dr. Brien treasurer.

Immediately following they took possession of the offices of the commission and at once started in to clear away the mass of business which has been accumulating since the old board went out of office on July 1.

They received many callers during the day, but when the "newspaper men" visited the office this afternoon, they were informed through the clerk in charge that the board had nothing to say.

MEXICAN CRISIS DRAWING NEAR

Situation Regarded as Vitally Grave in Official Circles--President Confident of Peaceful Settlement

Washington, August 7.—The American government tonight was confronted by what official Washington regarded as the most delicate situation in its relation with Mexico that has yet developed since armed revolution disturbed the peace of the southern republic.

The threatened rebuttal from the Huerta administration to the mission of John Lind, personal representative of President Wilson en route to Mexico City to expound the house of the United States for a suspension of hostilities and an orderly constitutional election in Mexico, drew from Senator Bacon chairman of the foreign relations committee, a declaration on the floor of the senate today, that the present situation is the "gravest in years, much graver than confronted us when the Cuban question was here."

The President realizes the gravity of the situation and manifested during the day his displeasure at the attitude of some members of the minority party in congress telling some members that he believed certain Republicans were making it difficult for him to handle the situation in a peaceful manner.

On this account, Mr. Wilson justified tonight the strong and emphatic language of Senator Bacon who, during a debate on the senate on the resolution of Senator Clark of Wyoming, Republican demanded a general investigation of Mexican affairs, has referred to the resolution as openly disrespectful, and flouting in the face of

Woburn Contractor Is Hurlled
From His Car Late Last Night.

Woburn, August 8.—As the result of the overturning of his automobile in Burlington last night, William J. Carroll, 37, a prominent contractor of Woburn died at the Woburn Hospital early this morning.

With two friends Carroll was driving along the state highway just outside of Burlington. Swinging around a sharp curve the car swooped down a heavy farm wagon. Carroll turned quickly aside, the car skidded and crashed through a fence into a tree.

The three occupants were thrown down a 15 foot embankment into a swamp. Carroll was picked up with a fractured skull and three broken ribs, one of which had pierced his left lung near the heart. The other two were but slightly injured.

MAY BE JUDGE SIMES.

Republicans Are Talking Him
as a Mayoralty Candidate.

Some of the active members of the Republican city committee state that it is not too early to get a line out for the coming mayoralty campaign, and look the field over for a candidate to lead the field over in December. According to political gossip they have named Judge Thomas H. Simes to head the ticket and it is almost certain that they will back the former police court justice if he cares to be a passenger on the political band wagon. Along with this gossip the names of Frank W. Knight and Mark W. Anthony are heard in political circles as mayoralty timber. It is evident that the party is seeking young blood, if any of these political rumors have a foundation.

KITTERY TAX RATE.

Jumps $4.50 on the Thousand for 1912.

The residents of Kittery got something of a mild surprise when the tax rate for 1912 was announced owing to the jump made by the selectmen. This year the property owners will pay $20.50 on the thousand. Last year they got out of it for just $25.00. The increase is due to the installation of more electric lights and the repairs on roads and bridges.

BLANKS ARRAIGNED.

Case Will Be Heard in District Court on Saturday.

William D. Blanks, colored, who cut up Sator Martin with a knife on Thursday night, was arraigned in the district court today charged with aggravated assault. He pleaded not guilty and asked for a continuance until Saturday, when he will be represented by an attorney. The court granted the request and placed the bonds at $200.

A movement is being made by the retail clerks of the city to establish a half holiday each week and a petition is being circulated among the proprietors of the several stores throughout the city. It is understood that if the same is granted the clerks will loaf on Wednesday afternoons.

It is stated that the amount collected at the games of the Sunnol League this summer are $400 less than the amount collected in 1912.

BECKER'S AGENT ACCUSES THREE

Will Tell the Grand Jury of Men "Higher Up" Who Shared in Police Graft

New York, Aug. 7.—Charles B. Pitt, Jr., formerly known as a press agent for Charles Becker and a police informer, will go before the grand jury soon—probably next week—to give testimony against three high police officials. These, according to Pitt, comprised the "inner circle" and were the "big three" to whom his former chief, Lieut. Becker, paid over a good part of the graft collected by him.

Dist. Atty. Whitman is satisfied that Pitt is telling the truth. At first he took Pitt's story with a generous grain of salt. Pitt himself is accused of perjury as the result of statements he made on the stand when he was tried and acquitted of the murder of Waverly Carter, a negro, who was shot in a raid made by the "strong arm" squad of Lieut. Becker.

By the hardest kind of work, however, Dist. Atty. Whitman and his assistants—Frederick J. Gould and Walter R. Deuel—have found three supporting witnesses. Two of the witnesses may be considered accomplices, but Dist. Atty. Whitman is satisfied that he has a case which at least merits investigation by the grand jury.

If the grand jury takes the same view of the case that the district attorney does, indictments will be returned against three men. It will be impossible to indict one without indicting all three.

Accuses Three "Higher Up."

One of the three is now at police headquarters where he occupies an important position. Another is now an inspector. The identity of the third man has never been guessed. He was not included in the preliminary statement made by Pitt.

Pitt says that they all took a share of the graft that was paid to Lieut. Becker. He names times and places where the money was paid. Corroboration sufficient to warrant a grand jury inquiry has been found. More is ex-

State Tax Commis- sion So Orders

A Sensation that Will Provoke a Gnashing
of Teeth

The Rate This Year is $22 40

There is likely to be a gnashing of teeth when the tax bills for the various local corporations are issued. The state tax commission has ordered an increase in the tax of the big industries that will make a sensation, while the small corporations and other individuals are hard hit. The Gas Company paid in 1912 on a valuation of $78,000, and the tax commission has ordered this increased to $200,000.

The Rockingham Light and Power Co. in 1912 paid on a valuation of $252,000, which has been increased to $600,000.

These are all the figures that the Herald obtained today, but it will give an idea of what has happened. The tax rate is $22.40; last year it was $21.60. Hold your breath! The tax assessors are working behind closed doors and when the Herald is read tonight they no doubt will want to barricade the doors. It is understood that all the other big business concerns will also get a shock when they open their tax bill for inspection.

the First to Pass Over Structure.

Passenger train No. 1306, which leaves this city at 11 o'clock next Sunday morning and passes through Lynn at 12:31 p. m., will be the first over the Lynn elevated system. Just why the honor of being the first passenger train to look down on Lynn has been allotted to this particular 1306 is something that nobody seems to know. But it's true nevertheless. The second elevated track will be put in use in a week, and then grades in Lynn will be permanently separated.

It has been officially announced by the Boston and Maine's publicly bureau that the inbound elevated track will be taken over for traffic on Sunday, August 10. This news confirms the engineers' forecast of weeks ago. There is quite a bit of work mostly of the finishing and cleaning up varieties to be done before Sunday but there is no doubt at all of its completion on schedule at the present rate.

Leaders of the summer colony of New York's 400 at York Harbor, Me., will attend there tomorrow the wedding of William A. Slater, Jr., of Washington, D. C., and Miss Madeleine Howe Allen of South Orange, N. J. The prospective bridegroom, who is not quite 23, is a grandson of the late John F. Slater, who was head of the Slater cotton mills at Jewett City, Conn., and he is a great-grandson of Samuel Slater, a pioneer American cotton goods manufacturer. His parents divide their time between Washington, where they occupy the former home of the late William C. Whitney at 1731 I street, and Biarritz, France, where they have an estate.

WITH THE MOVIES

Nesbitt and McDermott Take Chances

Miriam Nesbitt and Marc McDermott have comparatively seldom been called upon to do especially perilous scenes before the camera, but their work in "Flood Tide" certainly falls under that classification. The Cornish coast in the neighborhood of Mill Point Light, is famous for its perpendicular cliffs. When the story was written, requiring the leading players to climb the full height of the treacherous cliff, director Brabin intended to double Miss Nesbitt and McDermott—that is to hire actresses who resembled them sufficiently to make the climb in their place. To his consternation however, he found that only two or three actresses were willing to climb the cliff and none of those remotely resembled either of the leading players. The only girl, in fact, was about twice Miss Nesbitt's size.

Though both Miss Nesbitt and McDermott were perfectly willing to take the risk, Mr. Brabin declared that, besides his natural aversion to standing the funeral of friends, he deemed it poor business policy to take chances with his leading players while three thousand miles from home. It was decided therefore to use the substitutes and place the camera far enough away to conceal their identity. The conformation of the cliffs, however, made that impossible and nothing would do but the players would make the ascent themselves.

So, with the water at their backs, they began a long and treacherous climb, slipping, sliding with treacherous foot holds giving way beneath them as loosened rock plunged into the waves below. It will be tremendously effective on the screen, but it will never be as thrilling to any audience as it was to the players who fought their way to the top of the cliffs.

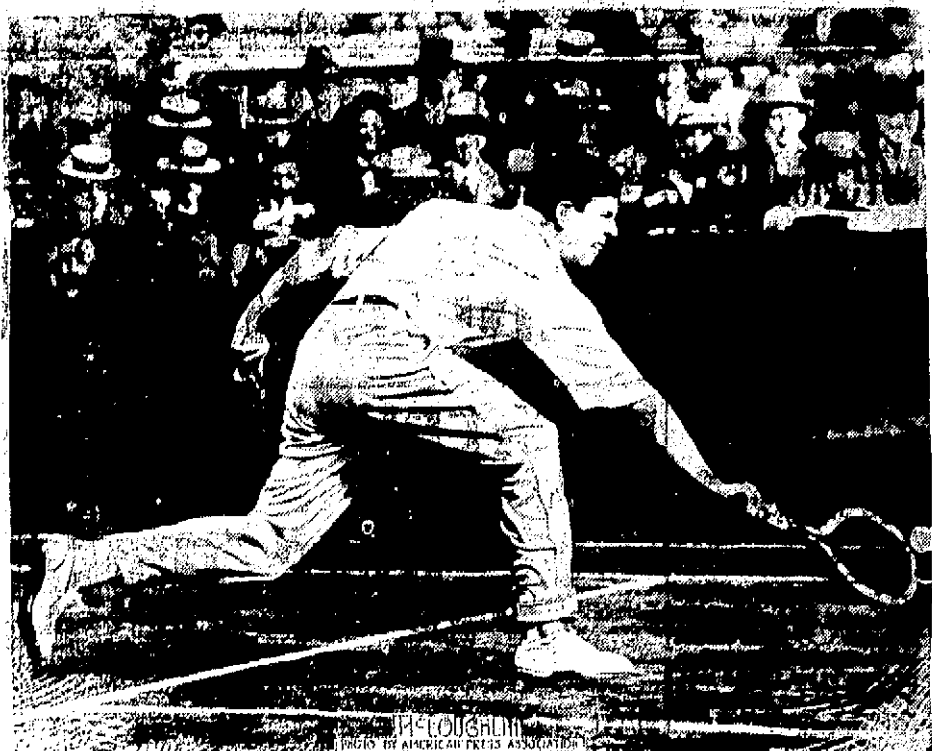

Mary Fuller, Augustus Phillips, Walter Babin, and other Portland players in Maine are combining hard work with a great deal of fun. Miss Fuller has her own saddle horse and divides all her spare time between riding and swimming. One day under preparation requires that Miss Fuller swim to sail a boat, and when it became known, every male in Belfast from the age of 16 to 60 placed his boat and boat experience at her disposal. As a result Miss Fuller has added sailing to her long list of accomplishments.

McLoughlin Making Difficult Return in Winning Match Abroad for the Davis Cup

New York, Aug. 7. The return of Maurice McLoughlin, the national tennis champion, and other members of the victorious American challenging team which is bringing back the Davis cup will be made the occasion of a big welcome. Pictures of the international tennis matches have preceded the players. This one of McLoughlin, shows the famous tennis crack at his best. He is seen making a difficult backhand return. He exerts in these sort of plays as well as in his lightning service. McLoughlin will get right in trim for the National tennis tournament at Newport, which begins the middle of the month.

ten thousand dollars in stage money was scattered on the pavement and every sheltering doorway was vacated by loungers and refugees from the storm who eagerly helped to pick up the money in hope of reward. There were several harsh words spoken when Wilson anything walked and they found themselves in possession of pieces of wet paper not worth a postage stamp.

DAVIS CUP IS ON THE WAY

President Robert D. Wrenn of United States National Lawn Tennis Association returns to Ball Saturday. New York, Aug. 7.—Robert D. Wrenn, president of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association returned yesterday on the Imperator from England, whither he had gone on a flying trip to be present at the challenge round for the Davis Cup. President Wrenn did not bring the famous trophy back with him. It will be carefully packed and shipped later, after which it will be placed on exhibition in this country for the first time since 1903.

With the arrival of President Wrenn it became known that the members of the American cup team will not arrive for another week, as they will not sail from New York until next Saturday, Aug. 9. This means that none of the quartet will be able to play in the Southampton tournament next week. It is likely that they will have a few days of preparation before entering the national championship tournament at Newport.

President Wrenn was enthusiastic over his trip and the result of the Davis Cup matches. He said the victory of the American team was well deserved. He paid a flattering compliment to J. C. Parke, who defeated McLoughlin and Williams in the singles, and said he was one of the most resourceful players in the game. He did not think luck played any part in the matches, but said the American players had to work hard to win, especially in the doubles, where the British were at one time within a point of winning, which, with the next day's victory of Parke in the single would have saved the cup for England.

William's work with the racket was praised by Mr. Wrenn, who said that the young Philadelphian made a splendid fight against Parke and came very near turning the trick, only to lack steadfastness.

Regarding the proposed changes in the Davis Cup rules, Mr. Wrenn said that only a few minor changes had been proposed and these will be considered at a special meeting of the executive committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association during the championship tournament at Newport. In discussing the Davis Cup matches, Mr. Wrenn said:

"The victory of the American team was a splendid one, especially in the doubles, which the British followers of the game expected would go to England. All our players kept in splendid physical condition, but the strain of the matches was so severe that if four contestants went to the Continent to rest up. They were called upon to play a long series of matches and were naturally under a severe nervous strain during the progress of the contests. The four contestants played up to their term and carried out the expectation of the American tennis public. It was a great victory, but due credit must be given to the English team, especially J. C. Parke.

YORK BEACH WINS IN 11TH INNING

York Beach defeated Rollinsford Thursday on Railroad field, 9 to 8, in 11 innings. The game was witnessed by about 600 people, by far the largest crowd this season. Weare and Miss Gertrude McDonald were the battery for the York Beach team, at the start, but had to give way to Gill and Becker in the seventh with the score 8 to 6 against the home team. Bob Weare was hit hard, but it cannot be blamed to him, as Miss McDonald was partially the cause. Gill went after the visitors in fine shape after pitching yesterday's game, and held them to two hits in five innings. Williams pitched well up to the 8th, when he weakened and allowed the home team to score three runs.

York Beach won in the 11th after Turner fanned. Weare was safe on Carter's error of his grounder and scored on Hayes' single, after Yorks filled out to the shortstop. Young and Hayes were the heavy hitters for the beach nine, while McGovern played well in the field and at the bat for the losers.

Brown's one-hand running catch of Swasey's line drive in the third was the feature of the game and the best catch here this season. The score:

The trend the case had taken was apparent yesterday, when it was learned that Pitt's bail had been reduced by Judge Rosinsky, in general sessions, on Monday. The $2500 bail was furnished Tuesday by the Illinois Surety Company, and for the first time since his arrest, more than a month ago, Pitt spent a day at liberty.

The district attorney approved of the reduction of bail for two reasons. One was that Pitt at liberty was in a much better position to aid in getting confirmation of his story; and the second was that Pitt had "made good" and there was no further reason for holding him under prohibitive bail.

By many the acquittal of Pitt in the Carter murder case was held to be in a measure responsible for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, at the behest of Lieut. Charles Becker.

Two detectives who had worked under Lieut. Becker were assigned to the case. They reported to the district attorney that it was impossible to fix the crime upon any one. Finally the negroes of Harlem took the matter up, and on the same day that Magistrate Appleton discharged Pitt in the police court, upon police testimony, an indictment for murder was found against him upon testimony which Theron D. Strong, head of the district attorney's homicide bureau, and process servers had gathered without the aid of the police.

The impression got abroad that Becker had been able to shield Pitt. That added to Becker's prestige among a certain type of gangster and gunmen, and when the proposition was made to "hold back" those to put Herman Rosenthal out of the way, and he in turn hired four gunmen to do the job, it did not appear so unreasonable that the all-powerful Becker might shield them.

Whether it was the effort of Becker that resulted in Pitt's acquittal or not, he did not offer to help those or his things when they were caught, and consequently they turned on Becker. Becker is in the death house at Sing Sing.

New Pitt finds himself again in the lull, and has no one offered to come to his assistance. Pitt, like the other tools of Becker who saw themselves facing punishment, has turned not only against Becker, whom he cannot turn, but also against the others.

A benefit game for the Salvation Army will be played later between the Blues and the Ports, the Ports to have the privilege of picking from any of the teams of the navy yard, so that it will be an army and navy team.

Manager W. F. Woods will manage one team and he will pick his players from the P. A. C. Riversides and Port, while the other team will be selected by Manager Billings of the Y. M. C. A. who can pick his team from the Blues

While no statement was given out of the financial standing of the league, it is said that the collections this season was much lower than last season by a few hundred dollars.

THE JAPANESE
COMMISSIONERS
ON WAY HOME

San Francisco, Aug. 7.—Sailing Aug. 13 from Vancouver on the same ship with Gen. Felix Diaz, special Ambassador from Mexico to Japan, will be Dr. Juichi Hiyeda and Tadao Komiyu, honorary secretary of the Tokio Chamber of Commerce, the two commissioners sent to this country by the Affiliated Chambers of Commerce of Japan, to investigate the conditions surrounding the California Alien Land act.

In summarizing the result of their investigations, Dr. Soyeda said today: "The general feeling toward our country was found very cordial, and the general sentiment among Japanese living on the Pacific Coast also was satisfactory. There seems to be a fine degree of patience and forbearance manifested."

"Our people at home also are waiting for the ultimate solution with forbearance. So long as the people of the two countries keep their heads and try to understand each other, there is nothing to fear.

"The recent unpleasant situation has not been without its good results. The people of Japan will know more about your people and the Constitution and the laws that regulate your National and Internal conduct, and you will know more about Japan."

"We hope that the law passed recently at Sacramento never will go into effect; but if it does, you may rest assured that the Japanese will regulate their conduct to comply, at the same time striving to enforce the permanence of their residence here."

"It was the spirit of discrimination against the Japanese in the California law that moved us to protest," added Kikuyu. "Our alien land law has been cited, but we reply that it applies to all foreigners, alike—Americans, Chinese, Russians, British, Germans."

STRONG TIES TO JAPAN

Ambassador Guthrie Voices Them—
"Emperor Welcomes American in a Cardinal Terms."

Tokio, Japan, Aug. 7.—The strong ties uniting the Japanese Empire and the United States were mutually voiced today by the Emperor of Japan and George W. Guthrie, the new American Ambassador on the occasion of the presentation of his credentials by the latter.

Ambassador Guthrie conveyed the greetings of President Wilson to the Emperor, and dwelt on the warmth and sincerity of American sentiment in regard to Japan.

A regiment of Japanese cavalry escorted the Ambassador to the Imperial Palace, whether he drove in an imperial coach. Pedestrians along the route respectfully uncovered as he passed.

While the Ambassador and his staff were in audience with the Emperor, the ladies of the diplomatic party were received by the Empress.

TO AVOID MAN RAN INTO POLE

A large touring car with a New York register as to be owned by a man named Grant, crashed into a telephone pole near the North Mill bridge Thursday afternoon and was badly damaged. The driver in seeking to avoid running down a man who was crossing the street turned out and struck the pole. Nobody in the car was injured, but the car was quite badly damaged. Later it was towed to the repair shop of the Rockingham Garage.

NAVY 85 P. C. TEMPERATE, 12 P. C. ABSTAINERS

That total abstinence from intoxicating liquors is on the increase in the United States Navy was declared by Rev. Eugene MacDonald, in an address at the forty-third annual convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union, which opened at Philadelphia yesterday. Father MacDonald, who is a chaplain in the navy, said that the navy is now eighty-five per cent temperate, "W have," he declared, "by actual enumeration twelve per cent total abstinence and eighty-five per cent temperate men. The old days are passing and men do not return to the ship drunk. There are men in the navy who go ashore take a glass of beer and the so 'their way. They will take a pledge against whiskey but want the beer as a safety valve."

Another Home Coming.

The gathering of the absent sons and daughters of Eliot this week to assist in the Old Home Week celebration brings forcibly to mind that it is only a few years hence when Portsmouth will have the opportunity of observing the three hundredth anniversary of the settlement of the town. While no doubt the event will be observed in a manner befitting the occasion, it seems that there should be another home coming of the sons and daughters of Portsmouth before that time. The pleasant recollections of the last home coming have not yet been forgotten by the absent ones residing in Boston and New York and the opinion is frequently expressed that the city should have another home coming in the near future, as ten years will elapse before the three hundredth anniversary occurs. No one can deny the fact that these visitations of the absent sons and daughters stimulates their interest in their home town, even if they are many miles away from it. It also should not be forgotten that it was in this city in 1853 where the first home coming was conceived and carried out so ably.

A Fitting Tribute.

The tribute paid to the sterling worth of the late Governor John F. Hill of Augusta, at Eliot, on Wednesday, by Governor William T. Haines of Maine, must have been pleasing to everyone present at the Old Home Week celebration. Governor Hill was born in Eliot, and, unlike many persons after leaving his native place and becoming prosperous, did not forget his birthplace, retaining up to the very last a deep interest in old Eliot. The handsome granite hall and the many historic tablets about the town fully attest the love that John F. Hill held for the place of his birth and his memory will be cherished for many years to come by the old and young of Eliot.

An Important "Want" for Portsmouth.

Wanted, very badly, an up-to-date club house and home for the men of the navy at Portsmouth. Building should be equipped with all modern conveniences. This paper has argued for years that such a building would prove a big asset in the plan of building up the local navy yard. The plan must have the support of citizens with the money to do it. Who will see this plan through?

The Railroads' Contract With the Express Co.

One of the most sensible things that has been done for many years to lighten the burdens of the Boston & Maine R. R. is the suit brought to annul the American Express Co.'s contract. The work of removing the unjust burdens placed upon that corporation has only just been started. The legal channels of the state should be thrown wide open in this latest move.

Business Will Not Suffer Very Much.

There is no need of any fear of hard times this winter if all hands attend to business and stop shouting about the country going to the bow wows. The tariff law will not close up business, neither will the war talk or railroad wars. The country will continue to grow and prosper.

The Cheerful Giver.

Saturday will be observed as tag day in this city, the proceeds to be for the benefit of the Portsmouth hospital. The cause is a worthy one and our citizens should respond liberally to youthful taggers, who will work from early morn until dusk to aid the project. Be a cheerful giver.

Mulhall Looks Like a Big Bluff.

There is a Mulhall in every city and town—the individual that takes graft from this and that man to "fix things." The fellow that writes that he had a tough job but after the "thing" has been fixed. From this locality Mulhall looks like a "big bluff."

Eliot's Old Home Week Celebration.

The citizens of the hustling town of Eliot never do anything by halves and all who have attended the Old Home Week festivities are enthusiastic over the entertainment furnished.

Politicians of Bay State Alarmed.

The politicians of the Bay State are suffering from fright for fear that Governor Foss will "put one over" on them.

THE SEA-TURN

By Emily B. Cole

Low-lying Appledore, so lately kist
By blurring sun it wraps in ghostly mist:
New Castle's frowning fort from view
It sweeps;
Past Jerry's Point it swift and silent creeps.
That floating fortress, anchored in the stream,
Close wreathed in fog, has vanished
ed like a dream.
Swift currents by its stealthy fingers chilled Grow gray and lifeless, all their beauty stifled.

Yon lazy gundalo, with towney sail, Draws faint in such embrace and dim and pale.
Ones fleet sea-gull sails across the blue—
Now, wings and silvery vapor blend
In hue;
While birches close beside us ghostly gleam;
All blotted out the harbor, shore,
and stream.
Close, close about us, turn where e'er we list, Bright cannot pierce the walls of dimmy mist.

EDUCATION NOTES

Six hundred and forty-four thousand and three hundred and six persons attended continuation schools in France last year.

Kindergartens in Worcester, Mass., cost on an average $31.56 per pupil for the year; elementary grades, cost $34.01; high school, $64.50.

Pupils in a German school were recently tested as to their reading of newspapers. In the highest elementary class of forty-four, 25 read a newspaper every day; 16 at least once a week; and 4 less frequently.

San Francisco, one of the few large cities without kindergartens as a regular part of the public school system, intends to establish a number of kindergartens in the fall, according to information received at the United States Bureau of Education.

A model house, with balcony, parlor, dining room, bedroom, kitchen, bath and toilet room was erected by the ninth-grade pupils of the Junior, Porto Rico, schools, on the grounds of the Third Insular Fair of Porto Rico. A complete set of furniture was also made by the children. Carpentry is one of the practical courses introduced in the Junior schools, under the supervision of Cecilio Benitez, the superintendent.

One-fourth of all the public school teachers in New Jersey are engaged in professional study at summer schools this year. There are over 300 at Rutgers College alone, attending the first summer session ever held by the State College. Three other summer schools for teachers have recently been established by state appropriations. Teachers indicating a resolve to raise the standard of teaching, the movement marks the beginning of closer relations between Rutgers College and the general educational needs of the state.

"The greatest need of rural schools is better supervision, removed entirely from politics, and a larger tenure of office," says J. H. Arp, county superintendent of schools, Jackson County, Minn. "Every county or rural supervisor should be appointed on merit of service and education, and not be restricted to any county or any state."

The recent Illinois legislature supported education handsomely. In addition to appropriating $1,700,000 for the state University, the legislature made the following notable enactments: A million-dollar addition to the state distribution fund; a certifying bill that put Illinois in the front rank, according to State Superintendent Blair; a free high school tuition act, long clamored for; a law permitting local school boards to levy 2 per cent instead of 1 1/2 per cent for operating expenses, when authorized by vote of the people; and the creation of the position of state high school inspector at $4,000 a year.

Drawing work from public schools in 22 cities has been selected by the United States Bureau of Education for exhibition purposes, and is now touring the country. The following are among the cities honored with a place in the exhibit: Los Angeles and Stockton, Cal.; New Haven, Conn.; Ottawa, Ill.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Philadelphia, Lowell, Marlboro, Nantucket, Newton, Reading, Somerville, and Springfield, Mass.; Minneapolis, Minn.; St. Louis, Mo.; Jersey City and Newark, N. J.; Buffalo, Binghamton, Schenectady, Colwyn, Syracuse, Troy, and Utica, N. Y.; Cleveland, Ohio; Laurinburg, Minersville, Oxford, Pittsburgh, and Rankin, Ala.; and Westbury, N. Y.

Picked Up in Colorado.

Some years ago in a western mining town a man was found dead in his hotel room, hanged to a bedpost by his suspenders. The jury of minors brought in the following verdict at the coroner's inquest: "Deceased came to his death by coming home full and mistaking himself for his pants."

President's Special Envoy to Mexico Faces Most Difficult Mission.

The country of large awaited with keen interest the outcome of President Wilson's action in sending ex-Governor John Lind of Minnesota to Mexico as special envoy to the American embassy at Mexico City. The former governor, who is a close friend of Secretary of State Bryan, was delegated to induce Huerta to resign and to bring the federalists and the constitutionalists together for the purpose of holding an election for president. Mr. Lind's portrait is here shown, together with a typical group of the Mexican rebels with whom leaders he will have to deal.

The President, while the latter was endeavoring to put into effect peace policy. The resolution was finally forced off the day's calendar. President Wilson was unmoved by advice from Mexico City depicting the Huerta government as inimical to Mr. Lind's mission. He let it be known too, that so far as he was able to learn there was not the slightest demand from the American people for intervention and declined to discuss alternatives that might be used in event that the efforts of the American government to help restore peace to Mexico was rejected.

The President is confidently hopeful that a peaceful settlement of the Mexican trouble can be effected. He made it plain to callers that until advised officially to the contrary, he would continue to regard as incredible the statements issued on behalf of President Huerta declaring Mr. Lind's presence in Mexico undesirable. While there is little disposition to doubt the veracity of the news dispatches describing the attitude of the Huerta government against Lind there is hope among other administration officials that upon mature reflection no such intimation shall be formally conveyed to the Washington authorities.

The President is known to hold the opinion that the Huerta administration would make a vital mistake to refuse at this stage of the situation to receive an envoy from the chief executive of the United States, even though the embassy lacked diplomatic status. Mr. Lind, it was pointed out, was purposely sent without credentials so that he might deal freely with persons of all factions in Mexico who might inquire as to the news of the Washington administration.

It is expected that an announcement of the purposes of the Washington government in sending Mr. Lind to Mexico will be made on his arrival in the Mexican capital and in the meantime there is no formal expression from the administration.

It is known however, that Mr. Lind is instructed to convey the earnest wishes of the United States government for a restoration of peace in Mexico and will make his representations largely through the charge d'affaires of the American embassy. Washington officials would be pained nevertheless if it had the opportunity to talk with President Huerta and out into in person the friendly aim of the American government toward Mexico.

Should the efforts of the United States be balked by open remonstrance against Mr. Lind's visit, various suggestions for procedure came from officials but none of them reflecting any definite plan.

It was pointed out that the Huerta government refused to deal with a representative of the President of the United States or turn a deaf ear to his representations, recognition of the belligerency of the constitutionalists should follow a natural consequence. The thing that hitherto has blocked the movement for recognition of the constitutionalists has been the realization that the American government by such action would forfeit its right to claim for damages against the Huerta administration.

With open diplomatic hostility, however between the Huerta government and the United States, it is recognized that there might be little opportunity to enforce claims and many members of the senate are confident that the constitutionalists could be depended on to reimburse the American government eventually, as they believe by lifting the American embargo on arms, the constitutionalists, cause would soon triumph.

CURRENT OPINION

THE DAY OF THE FARMER

In the past the tariff and other laws have been beneficial to the manufacturer rather than to the farmer. A chance is at hand and the farmer is about to come in for a share of government favors.

Another direction in which government encouragement is to be extended to the agricultural community is that of roads. Whether we believe in it or not—a good many real farmers don't—it is plain as daylight that the national government is going presently into the business of building country roads. The beginnings will be modest and rather experimental; but if an enterprise that, once entered upon, is certain to absorb more and more importance to itself. We can all recollect how tentatively and cautiously the first experiments in rural free delivery were undertaken. Nobody would have dared tackle it if it had been realized that inside of twenty years Uncle Sam would actually be lugging a daily mail to almost every farmhouse door. They would have been certain that such a stunt would bankrupt the government. It did nothing of the kind; the postoffice keeps right on providing new facilities and coming closer and closer to a profit.

Perhaps, therefore, it is safe for the government to jump into the good-roads business, in partnership with the states. One thing is certain: If the farmers want federal aid in building roads, they can get it by going after it. Congress is in a melting mood. Nobody is prepared to vote against anything the farmers are agreed in wanting; partly because of the farmer's political importance, partly because of this new disposition to transfer the pampering from the manufacturer to the farmer. If you want your fur stroked the right way, Mr. Farmer, just jump your back and rub up against congress.—Judson C. Welliver, in Farm and Fireside.

STATE NAVAL MILITIAS MUST PROVE EFFICIENCY

Cannot Have Government Vessels Unless They Make Use of Them.

Naval militia organizations throughout the country which are lucky enough to have at their disposal the few vessels which the Navy Department has for such use will have to show by their records submitted to the department that they are using them and getting the proper sort of training.

The strong demand on the Navy Department from organizations which have not a naval craft, coupled with the security of vessels for that service, has prompted the Navy Department to issue a general order stating that if the organizations do not get a sufficient number of cruises on the vessels each year the Navy Department will give them to other organizations.

Not only will the department require the organizations to use the vessels for making cruises, but the records submitted to the department must show that the organizations are capable of attending to the upkeep of the vessels and do not have to send them to navy yards for every little trouble discovered aboard.

That order, it is expected, will insure the assignment of vessels to the efficient naval militia organizations, and will leave the inefficient organizations without vessels after they have shown that they cannot take care of them. There are very few vessels of the navy available for naval militia purposes, and the department has difficulty in meeting all requests.

Some of the vessels now assigned to naval militia organizations, it was reported, are lying idle. When that report reached the department a general order was issued on the subject.

FOUND A MAN IN WIFE'S ROOM AND USED A KNIFE

William D. Blanks, Colored, Cut Up William Martin With Bolo Knife--Martin at Hospital--Blanks Under Arrest.

William Martin, colored, a sailor attached to one of the ships at the navy yard, is at the Portsmouth Hospital with seven knife wounds in his arms and body and William D. Blanks, aged 32, of this city, colored, is locked up in the police station charged with assault, with intent to kill, Martin being the victim.

Blanks lives on Jefferson street, and is the proprietor of a pool room on Market street. Martin, the sailor, has a room in Blanks' house, and according to the story told by Blanks, he went home early last night and found Martin in a room with his wife, and with the door locked.

He was refused admission and he broke down the door, and then attacked Martin with a bolo knife. It was a tough fight while it lasted and Martin was cut seven times. With one exception they were on his arms where he sought to defend himself from the furious husband but one cut got through and went into his side, the knife being stopped by a rib, which fact probably saved his life. Dr. Taylor was called and he ordered Martin taken to the hospital where his wounds were dressed, and he is expected to recover.

Officers Doherty and Condon located Blanks on Penhallow street at the jail, where he had gone to see Deputy Sheriff Shaw, and placed him under arrest. At the police station he admitted that he had cut up Martin but said he did not intend to kill him, just cut him up a little.

He ran out of the house after the fight and was on his way to get bail before giving himself up at the police station. The bolo knife was afterwards found at Blanks' house and it is a wicked looking weapon with a blade 15 inches long, and after examining it the police are convinced that Blanks is telling the truth when he said he did not intend to kill him.

Blanks is a colored man who has lived here a few years and he has always had a good reputation. He has for several months conducted a pool room on Market street.

MAKE SLOW PROGRESS ON TARIFF BILL

Senator Sherman Strongly Opposes Rate Put on Car Wheels.

Washington, August 7--Democrats made slow progress today in advancing the new tariff bill. An opposing speech by Senator Warren, Republican; a long and sharp debate between Senators Stone and Lippitt over the making of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, and an attack by Senator Sherman upon provisions of the metal schedule took up much of the day.

Senator Sherman opposed the 10 per cent rate on car wheels in the bill saying, it meant ruin to the American manufacturers for the benefit of those in England and Germany. Reviewing experts of wheels from this country last year he said, "Not a dollar's worth will be exported in 1912 and it is reasonable to suppose that not a dollar will be exported in 1913. Instead of dollar diplomacy in the Far East with thousands of dollars worth of goods sold there we now have grape juice diplomacy and the sale of gophers."

Senator Staneb brought up the question of who furnished the facts for the cotton schedule of the Payne-Aldrich bill. He quoted from a speech in May, 1909 of the late Senator Dilliver in which it was charged, that Senator Lippitt--not then in public life had come to congress representing the New England cotton men with the statement that they wanted to increase and had gone away with material increases.

Senator Lippitt said that the Democrats were acting like cut-throats and his exposure yesterday of the cotton schedule in the present bill made them anxious to discredit him.

Senator Warren said that the dominant note of the party in power was "down with the farmer."

MORMON CHURCH.

Will Devote Outside Energies to Settlement Near Calgary.

Calgary, Alberta, Aug. 8.--That the Mormon church hierarchy in Salt Lake City has practically decided to abandon its Mexican colonization scheme and devote all of its outside energies to the development of its lands and settlements in Southern Alberta, was the announcement made semi-officially at Cardston, south of Calgary, last week on the occasion of the visit of Joseph F. Smith, of Utah, head of the church, who came to Alberta to dedicate the site of the new temple to be built at Cardston and the first to be erected outside of Salt Lake City.

President Smith made no secret of the fact that the Church of Latter Day Saints had great development plans for the country south of Calgary. The church owns hundreds of thousands of acres of lands in this territory and is prepared to add to its holdings as often as it can, no matter what price has to be paid. President Smith also indicated that the church would make an attempt to buy out the blood Indians who own a large reserve in the Mormon territory. He said he did not care what the Indians wanted for their lands. The church was wealthy and could afford to pay them a good price.

An impressive ceremony marked the dedication of the temple site by President Smith. In addition to the head of the denomination several of the leading dignitaries of the church were present from Utah, in the persons of C. W. Penrose, second counsellor; George A. Smith, one of the Twelve Apostles, and Charles W. Nibley, presiding bishop, under whose direction the temple will be built.

The main theme of the president's address was his assurance to the world that nothing would be carried on in this temple that would be contrary to the law of the land. He also strongly emphasized the excellence of British institutions, British government, British law and British justice. He especially mentioned in this connection the desirable observance of the Sabbath he had noted in Canada in comparison with the laxity prevalent in the United States and other countries. He concluded by scoring the liquor traffic and by the statement that the whole American continent was the land of Zion and that the Mormon faith would eventually dominate the world.

An interesting feature of the ceremonies was the presence of "Annie" Zina Card, wife of the pioneer Mormon settler in Southern Alberta and the daughter of Brigham Young, the pioneer of Salt Lake City and one of the faith's greatest leaders. The presence of Mrs. Card created a link with the past of unusual interest.

CHARGED THAT FEDERAL JUDGES HAD BEEN INFLUENCED

Washington, Aug. 3.—The charge that Department of Justice agents had investigated Federal judges to influence their action in cases in which the Government was interested was made in the Senate today by Senator Borah, and endorsed, partially at least, by Senator Norris. Senator Borah's charge was brought out by a report from Attorney General McReynolds, responding to a Senate resolution asking where Federal agents were investigating judges. The resolution reflected some sentiment aroused in the case of Federal Judge Spear of Georgia, whose court had been investigated and who had attacked the Department of Justice in a public address. The attorney general's reply to the inquiry was that they report that the Federal Department of Justice was maintaining a system of espionage over judges "was entirely without foundation." Mr. Borah responded with his charge.

"I know this is a very serious charge," said he, "but I am so reliably informed that I make the statement that within the last four or five years special agents have carried on such investigations with a view to influencing judges."

Senator Norris declared he did not have all the information Senator Borah had, but that he believed his statements were based on fact. The attorney general's report declared that only three judges had been investigated.

COST OF SHIPPING TO SOUTH AMERICA

Washington, Aug. 3. Foreign merchants contemplating the purchase of American goods always want to know the cost of the article delivered, and the inability or unwillingness of American exporters to quote a firm price has been their only order. To assist exporters in ascertaining delivery charges, the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce has published a bulletin compiled by Commercial Agent P. J. Sheridan dealing with transportation rates to the west coast of South America, this section of the foreign field being selected because of the trade activity that is expected to follow the opening of the Panama Canal.

The main part of the bulletin is a series of tables giving the freight rates on over 800 articles from inland points in the United States to inland points in Ecuador, Peru, and Chile. Freight rates per 100 pounds to various ports and inland cities are given to New York from Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Cleveland, Detroit, Buffalo, Pittsburgh, Boston, Providence, and Hartford, and per cubic foot from New York to Guayaquil, Callao, Mollendo, Antofagasta, and Valparaiso, etc. The Bulletin of Maritime and Air Transport, and freight rates per 100 pounds inland visiting the surface of the much abused "South Pond." This neglected sheet of inland salt water and basin has during the last three days received attention from Supt. Barrett of the Board of Public Works, the gates at the South-Mill bridge have been kept open and the tide allowed to ebb and flow in and out without hindrance, and in this way, with the help of two city employees, the conditions have improved to such an extent, that pleasure seekers have already been attracted, to this spot, by the changed appearance and conditions.

The writer having lived near this beautiful sheet of water (for it is beautiful when kept clean and sweetly) has become convinced that instead of being a nuisance, it would really be more of an asset to our city than all the parks together, provided the pond and its surroundings could receive as much attention from the Public Works Department as they at present put out on any one park or street of this city.

Within the week one of our dailies asked the question, When are we to have a new public bath-house and where is it to be situated? The answer to lay mind is very plain, after the Pond has been thoroughly cleaned and the shores cleaned of all rubbish, place the new bath-house at the foot of Haven Park and let those in authority see to it that the water is changed and replaced with water fresh from our river once or twice each week, and then our young children and other ones of our city by the sea will have an opportunity to enjoy a daily swim in salt water in a safe, clean and beautiful spot without the disagreeable necessity of traveling to the beaches.

If any who read this article doubt the feasibility of this scheme, let them journey to Little Harbor any day at high tide during the summer months, and they will witness some of our best class of summer visitors and land owners bathing in Sugarloaf creek and its adjacent tributaries of the Piscataqua.

The south pond inlet is less than one-half mile from our swift running Piscataqua River and with proper management the water in this pond can be kept clean and inviting at all times summer or winter. It is my earnest wish that the voters of this city by the sea will never give their consent, to have what might be a beautiful spot, turned into a dump or allowed by neglect, to become a stagnant pool.

IN THE LITERARY WORLD

Half China's New Novel, "The Woman Thou Gavest Me," the Greatest Sensation Ever Known in London Literary Circles.

Half China's new novel, "The Woman Thou Gavest Me," just published in London, was the cause of one of the greatest sensations ever known in London literary circles. The author, who has been the leading book distributor in the Kingdom, and on publication day, July 31, they did not have a single copy to sell or lend.

Early in the week the Librarian's Association questioned the morality of the novel. The Association agreed to supply any private demand for it, but declared they would exclude it from the lending libraries. Mr. Caine held that this was a blot on the morality of the book, and that if it was not fit for general circulation it was not fit for any circulation.

The Librarian's Association thereupon held a number of meetings to discuss the situation. In the meantime Half Caine telegraphed to many distinguished persons among the clergy and lay requesting their opinions of his book.

"The answers I received," said the author, "were almost unanimous in stating that everybody ought to read 'The Woman Thou Gavest Me,' because it deals with one of the greatest social problems of the day."

The Librarian's Association quickly reconsidered their first decision and gave Mr. Caine the necessary assurance that all restrictions had been withdrawn, and that his novel would be placed in general circulation, and then only were they able to supply their clamorous subscribers.

J. B. Lippincott Company, who will publish "The Woman Thou Gavest Me" on August 25, are reporting an extraordinary large advance demand for this book. A second large edition is on press thirty days before publication. Many of the heroine, whose remarkable story is told in the novel, will soon become a character of world-wide discussion, as in addition to the editions printed in England and America, it is being translated and will be issued simultaneously in Bohemian, Danish, Dutch, English, French and Swedish. Translations are also in course of preparation in German, Hungarian, Japanese, Polish, Spanish and Yiddish.

A Nom de Plume and Its History. There is frequently a bit of history attached to a nom de plume, particularly in those days when nom de plumes are obsolete. Dejeaux, the pen name of the author of "The House of Thane," just published by the Lippincott, is an interesting example of name translation. According to early family records, it was the surname of the half French, half Spanish ancestors of the author, the "Thane" portion of the name being pronounced like the French given name, Jean. In the sixteenth century a certain Glron Dejeaux took up his residence in Eng-

NO FEARS THAT LIND WILL NOT BE RECEIVED WELL

Washington, Aug. 3.—Administration officials do not believe the Huerta Government in Mexico really intends to snub John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative, as would seem to appear in last night's official statement by the Mexican acting minister of foreign affairs.

At the White House, at the State Department and in official circles today the impression put out was that when the Huerta Government was fully apprised of President Wilson's views, as transmitted by Mr. Lind, a different construction would be placed upon Mr. Lind's errand, and Mexico would realize it as a "mission of peace."

President Wilson and Secretary Bryan are disposed to await the arrival of Mr. Lind in Mexico City before taking any further steps in the situation. This was made clear today at the White House.

It was pointed out again today that Mr. Lind goes merely as adviser to the American Embassy in Mexico City and carries credentials to neither the Federal nor the Constitutional Government. He will deal with the Huerta Government only through the charge d'affaires of the American Embassy, so that there will be no necessity for his being received by President Huerta.

While the broad intimation from the Mexican capital that Mr. Lind would be persona non grata attracted wide attention today, officials were confident that no contingency would arise that would afford an opportunity for any overt remonstrance and in this, for some unexplained reason, the name was written with letters transposed, "Dejeaux." A great deal had been made to Glron Dejeaux, is still in the name of his descendants, the Dejeauxs of Capistrano, California. Then America took a hand in the game. A William Dejeaux came from England to this country some two hundred years ago. He was, according to family records, "A sober man with great dislike to fashion. He dropped the 'De,' calling himself simply William Jones. But from time to time in the American history, of the Jones family, a child has been christened Dejeaux Jones. In disapproval of the various ancestors who tampered with their rightful French cognomen. The author of 'The House of Thane' was so named—Elizabeth Dejeaux Jones. When from the radical character of her first novel, 'The Winning Chance,' it seemed probable that gold relatives might be disconcerted to find themselves allied to the author, she chose for her pen name what was her very own, Elizabeth Dejeaux.

The Commissioners will meet the first Thursday of every month for this work. The Portsmouth District Clerk, S. True-man, turned in $387.22 with an expense voucher of $38.75. BREAK MADE ON BOW STREET

The machine shop of Chadwick and Trefethen on Bow street was broken into on Wednesday night, but very little of value was taken. The break was not discovered until Thursday morning and an investigation disclosed that every tool chest in the shop had been ransacked but only two gauges and some keys were missing. The stock room was also forced but nothing taken. The break was made by breaking a window and then reaching through and unlatching the door from the inside.

THE MOODY BIBLE INSTITUTE

The students of the Moody Bible Institution of Chicago not only have the advantage of the regular instructions in the English Bible, Gospel Music, and Practical Methods of Christian Work, but also the benefits of special lectures.

This summer they have been favored by the inspirational addresses of Rev. R. A. Torrey, D. D. of Los Angeles, California, and Rev. A. C. Dixon, D. D. of London, England, besides the heart to heart talks of missionaries and Christian workers.

Arrangements have been made for the coming of the Rev. G. Campbell Morgan, D. D. of London, Eng., the great Bible Expositor, and Sir William Ramsay, the distinguished archaeologist, who is at present at An-against Mr. Lind's presence.

The envoy is expected to transmit the opinions of the American Government in such fashion as to reflect on the friendliness of the United States Government toward the Mexican people and no political interest in the factional warfare. He will make clear that what the American Government desires to see is a constitutional government legally set up, and it has no concern with the personnel of the candidates.

It is recognized here, however, that it was within the range of possibility for the Huerta Government openly to show its disapproval of Mr. Lind's mission, and while Administration officials were careful to point out that no drastic measures to enforce the opinion of the Washington Government were planned, it was suggested that the United States might, in such a case, feel justified in lifting the embargo on arms or a recognition of the belligerents.

Sec. Bryan declared he had not received the Huerta Government's declaration, said in last night's news dispatches to have been forwarded to Washington as well as to Europe.

Mr. Bryan explained that a message he sent yesterday to Charge O'Shaughnessy, instructing him to advise Huerta to await the coming of Envoy Lind instead of proceeding on colored reports published in Mexico, was dispatched before news of Huerta's declaration had been received, and, therefore, it was in no sense an answer to the announcement that Mr. Lind's presence in Mexico would be undesirable to dominate men's minds and give color to their thoughts, so that gold and the symbolism of gold played no small part in oral legends and written literature. Even to this day we apply the word "golden" to something precious and pure. We can find no term more worthy of the light of the sun than the "golden" sunshine. And when we speak of the Rome of Cleopatra, Caesar, and Virgil, or the England of Elizabeth, we can find no words more glowing or more eulogistic than Milton's "age of gold."

TURKEY MUST ABIDE BY ORIGINAL TREATY

London, Aug. 7.—The representatives of the European Powers took the first step at Constantinople today to compel Turkey to evacuate the fortress of Adrianople, which her troops reoccupied after war broke out between the former Balkan Allies. The diplomatic body demanded that the Turkish Government should respect the treaty signed in London between the former belligerents.

It is asserted in diplomatic circles that the contemplated action of the Powers, in the event of the present demand by them proving futile, will be such as to render further hostilities between Bulgaria and Turkey unnecessary.

AT THE PORTSMOUTH THEATRE LAST EVENING

There was a large audience at this popular playhouse and they witnessed two of the best acts that have been seen here for some length of time, headed by Allen and Francis, which created considerable laughter, even those with a grouchy couldn't help laughing. They cracked jokes that were entirely new and easily caught onto. They ended the act with a funny dance that brought them four or five encores.

The other act on the bill was Ruth Hayward, and she took well, giving an imitation of the singing and dancing of some famous performers. She sang well and was greeted warmly. The pictures were of the best. They change tonight with a Biograph heading the bill.

"That was one of the most accurate and painstaking reports of any affair that I have ever read," said Major David Urich in "The Herald," referring to the Old Home Week celebration at Bldg.

FAMOUS AIR MAN

KILLED IN ENGLAND

London, Aug. 7.—Col. P. S. Cody, the famous Anglo-American aviator, and a passenger named Evans were killed in an aeroplane accident at Aldershot today.

Cody was trying out a new aeroplane when he met with his death. In the machine with him was Evans. They were flying over the open country, most of which is Government land in the Aldershot District, and had just reached Government House when their aeroplane was seen to be traveling badly and finally to fall. Some people rushed to the spot where it struck the ground, and found the dead bodies of Cody and Evans among the ruins of the aeroplane.

Evans was a member of the Indian Civil Service who had obtained leave of absence to come to England to study aviation.

The aeroplane was flying at an altitude of between 200 and 300 feet when it fell. Members of the Royal Flying Corps removed the bodies to the military mortuary, and an inquest will be held tomorrow.

Cody's neck was broken and both of Evans' legs were fractured in the fall and their bodies otherwise were badly mangled.

Machine Weighed Over a Ton.
The machine used by Cody was a new hydro-aeroplane, which he was testing up for the forthcoming race between England and Scotland in which a prize weighed over a ton. It was fitted with a motor of 100 horsepower and had a wing span of 60 feet.

The Secretary of State for War in telegraphing his condolences to Mrs. Cody on the death of her husband, said:

"The science of aeronautics owes much to his mechanical genius and courageous perseverance. The British War Office has special reason to mourn the loss of his valuable services, both in regard to man-lifting and to his contributions to military aeronautics."

Cody's sons, Leon and Frank, were eye witnesses of the accident, which was attributed by spectators to the body of the craft, proving too heavy for the wings. The machine, they say,

BIG DEMAND FOR RAILROAD EQUIPMENT

Washington, August 8.—The sale of American locomotives and railway cars in foreign countries have been increasing steadily for the past five years, but the popularity of such rolling stock is confined almost entirely to Canada and Latin America. In monograph on the foreign markets for railway supplies and equipment about to be issued by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce it is shown that of $5,300,000 worth of railway cars sold to foreign countries during the first 10 months of the fiscal year 1913, over $3,100,000 worth were sold to Canada and the Latin republics. During the same period $1,300,000 worth of locomotives were shipped to Japan and Korea, but otherwise the markets for American locomotives have been limited to the American continent. The exports of electric cars have made a decided jump during the past year, but the increase is due principally to orders for more than $2,500,000 worth of cars for Brazil.

Railroad development in the older countries of Europe has been along lines decidedly different from those in the United States, and distinct types of rolling stock have consequently been evolved. American locomotives have been tried in a few of these countries, but it is believed that they have not proved satisfactory. In countries where railroads are a more recent development the capital has to a large extent been furnished by a few of the more important European countries with the natural result that orders for equipment are given to the countries furnishing the capital. Where the roads are owned by the Government, the home manufacturers are invariably favored in buying equipment.

The monograph prepared by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce comprises reports from the various American consuls on the prospects of selling American railway equipment abroad. These reports contain lists of railways, the names and addresses of officials charged with the duty of purchasing supplies, descriptions of repair shops and rolling stock, methods of making purchases, etc. Considerable attention is given to markets for American specialties and novelties, for which there is a better market than for locomotives and cars manufactured in the United States.

Copies of the monograph (Special Consular Reports No. 60) may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, for 25 cents.

BLACK BEARS PLENTIFUL

Burlington, Vt., Aug. 7.—Eight black bears were killed in Vermont during the fiscal year which close on July 1, as compared with sixty for the preceding year, according to an announcement made today by State Auditor Graham. In the same time, eighty-one lynx were killed, as against 129 for the previous year. Bounties were paid on 27,000 hedgehogs killed during the twelve months ending July.

BONDER SKIPPER SAILS

Hamburg, Germany, Aug. 7.—Richard Drowitz the constructor and skipper of the sonder class yacht Wittelsbach, owned by Christof Alt of Berlin which is to take part in the regatta off Marblehead, Mass., in September, sailed for New York today on board the Amerika. He will attend the elimination races of the American sonder class yachts.

DANIELS' POLICY

THE NAVY AFLOAT

Washington, Aug. 7.—Secretary Daniels of the Navy has made known a definite policy which will be followed during his first year in office and which will be the keynote of all his recommendations to Congress for an increased navy next winter. "I am going to ask Congress to put all of the money that it appropriates for the navy into a navy afloat and the necessary dock and yard equipment for this navy," said Mr. Daniels. "In my recommendations to Congress on a building program I shall not ask for additional buildings for shore stations or increases in the line or enlisted personnel, only in so much as they are absolutely necessary."

I want every cent appropriated to go to battleships, destroyers, submarines, tenders and colliers. That is the navy. That is where the fighting strength is. I cannot see building up the navy ashore."

It is intimated in Washington that the General Board of the Navy, of which Admiral Dewey is the head, is rapidly completing its recommendations for a building program. This program will soon be submitted to the Secretary of the Navy for revision.

For several years the General Board has urged three or four battle ships, but Mr. Meyer, acting Secretary of the Navy, always cut down the recommendations to two battleships with the usual auxiliaries. The General Board's recommendation this year will be substantially the same as last year's, three, possibly four, battleships, sixteen torpedo boat destroyers, six submarines, two colliers, a submarine tender, two light-draft gunboats for use in Chinese and Philippine waters, and a mine planting ship.

Mr. Daniels said he had not decided just how many ships he would ask Congress to authorize, and that he could not make up his mind until after he had received the report of Admiral Dewey's board.

DIVIDEND SUSPENDED

ON B. & M. R. R.

Dividend payments on the preferred as well as on the common stock of the Boston & Maine railroad have been suspended, according to yesterday's Boston & Maine following the annual due on the preferred stock Sept. 1 will not be paid.

Some question arose as to the status of the preferred dividend of the Boston & Maine following the announcement that at last month's directors meeting no action was taken in the matter. The natural inference was that preferred dividend had been passed. It may now be definitely stated that payments on the preferred issue as well as on the common have been suspended.

Surprise is expressed in some quarters that preferred dividends should be suspended as the 6 per cent preferred issue of the Boston & Maine amounts to only $3,149,800, calling for but $188,988 in dividends a year. The Boston News Bureau says that though the road is passing through a critical period, it is argued by some that the small preferred dividend might well have been maintained.

The "latest quotation" on the preferred is $100, which is the lowest price at which it has ever been sold. Its highest price was $155. During the period of 1893-1902, its lowest price was $80, and its highest $137.

NATION TO BUY BACK TOWNS

Senators Owen's Plan for Preventing Depreciation of Securities

Washington, Aug. 7.—Chairman Owen of the Senate Banking Committee introduced a bill today to authorize the Treasury to buy outstanding 2 per cent bonds from banks at par and interest. If the banks owning them so desire. The measure is intended to prevent depreciation of the 2 per cent bonds of the Treasury as they come into the Treasury, issue treasury notes, redeemable in gold, in their stead; transfer the gold represented by the gold certificates to the redemption district, cancel the 2 per cent bonds, issue 3 per cent in their stead and supply national bank notes with treasury notes.

BRITISH NAVY AIR FLEET SEPARATE.

The London Daily Mail says this morning that as a result of the experience in the recent maneuvers and the demands of the commanders of warships the Admiralty has decided to treat the naval air fleet as "distinct from the army aeroplane department and that ten airplanes, rigid and non-rigid, and 200 water planes will be ordered."

The Mare Island navy yard has been requested by the engineer's office of the war department to furnish estimates on the cost of building a motor survey cruiser for the use of the department in San Francisco bay and contiguous waters. The vessel is to be 82 feet long and of similar construction to revenue cutter No. 24, now under construction, with the exception that it is to be driven by gasoline power. It was cost in the neighborhood of $50,000 and will be used in survey work in the bays and tributary waters. Bids for the same will be opened in Washington tomorrow.

MARTIN WRITES NOTE.

Forgives Man Who Cut Him With Knife on Thursday Night.

William Martin, the sailor, who was cut so badly with a hole knife in the hands of William Blanks on Thursday night in the mishap on Jefferson street wrote a note in the hospital today in which he forgives Blanks and states that he alone was to blame for the whole affair. He also says that Blanks did not attack him with the weapon in the room and that he received the cut on the arm and ribs while attempting to hold the door with his body. Every cut was made with the point of the big Phillips knife through then wood in the panel of the door and the hole was not used after Blanks got inside.

POLICE NEWS.

A few days ago the Universalist Church was broken into and a small amount of money taken from the treasury. At the time the police suspected it was the work of thieves and have been on the watch since. On Thursday the gang made a second call but were frightened away after breaking a stained glass window in the rear. The officers rounded up four of them today and after telling half a dozen different stories, admitted that they did the job. They will appear in the juvenile court on Saturday and in the meantime their parents will arrange with some glazier to replace the glass and refund the amount of money stolen from the church.

Loaded With Stockings

The night police gathered in another young bunch of hoppers from Lynn on Friday evening, who were waiting on Friday evening who were waiting yard. On being searched it was found that the quartet were loaded with men's silk hosiery of all sizes and colors. The stock was brand new and evidently stolen from some store. On one was a ticket issued by a Chelsea pawn shop to John McLoughlin for a gold ring. As usual they came forward with phoney names such as Fred Brown, Fred Pike, John Green and Angelo Ferris, ages 18, 19, and 20 respectively. The immigration from Massachusetts cities to Portsmouth of the Knights of the Road of late is eclipsing all records, and either the police or the citizens are quite busy chasing them, or they like the New Hampshire climate for their summer travels.

FROM COAST TO COAST.

Government of Canada Asked to Establish State Owned Employment Bureaus.

Calgary, Alberta, Aug. 8.—The Calgary, Board of Trade has passed a resolution calling on the government of Canada to establish a system of state owned employment bureaus from one end of the Dominion to the other.

It was further decided to support the resolution by a letter to Right Hon. R. L. Borden, premier of Canada, asking that immediate steps be taken to have this important measure brought before parliament so that a regular chain of offices may be established from coast to coast. It was pointed out that the inauguration of such a system would enable the government to keep in touch with the labor situation all over the country so that men might be informed where they could or could not find work. The supply of workers would be properly regulated and there would be neither a glut nor a shortage. The plan has been very favorably received here and it is hoped the government will act on the resolution.
